

Ludovic Nicolas

INFORMATION WARFARE

At the heart of the #QAnon movement

(excerpts)

Published February 10, 2024
Copyright © 2024 Ludovic Nicolas
<https://ludovicnicolas.com>

Table of Contents

Awakening: a marginal and uneasy process

1.1 – Descent into hell.....	13
1.2 – Redemption.....	15
1.3 – My American years.....	24
1.4 – My father's cancer.....	27

Q

2.1 – A glimmer of hope.....	31
2.2 – In the shadow of the Trump presidency.....	36
2.3 – Operation Mockingbird.....	42
2.4 – The alliance with Military Intelligence.....	51
2.5 – Our first big win.....	57
2.6 – The media coverage of the movement.....	60
2.7 – At the gates of the Hermetic tradition.....	64

On course for victory

3.1 – Information or disinformation?	94
3.2 – The trap set for the Deep State.....	100
3.3 – Unusual movements.....	105
3.4 – The Great Awakening: second act.....	121
3.5 – The sun rises on a new horizon.....	125
3.6 – Epilogue.....	131

Index.....	142
------------	-----

(...)

1.3 – My American Years

In my early thirties, I moved to New York a few months before Barack Obama's first presidential election. To my horror, I witnessed the effectiveness of indoctrination on American soil. Obama, whom I called ‘the Vaseline tub’ (the subject of my first meme*), was a living god among liberals and in my professional environment: the luxury industry. There, far from my old habits, I was able to take my life back into my own hands and finally free myself from my addictions. My relationships with others were still fragile, but overall, I was doing quite well. I lived in a trendy neighborhood in Manhattan, and my passion for photography allowed me to travel to different parts of the world. Working with influential people in the photography industry gave me a sense of respectability and a comfortable social standing. However, in order to maintain this, I kept my worldview to myself, knowing that discussing it would not lead to any productive results.

* A meme is an image or video, usually humorous in nature, which is shared and spreads quickly on the Internet. It is considered the most effective way to get a message across on social media. In France, a ‘Vaseline tub’ is associated with anal sex...

However, it is important to recognize that beneath the glamour and rhinestones of this industry, there are some very disturbing practices. At the time, it was the work of photographer Terry Richardson that was most in vogue, probably because his sexually deviant universe was an expression of an increasingly uninhibited, taboo-free culture that used soft pornography as a selling point. This ‘porn-chic’ trend was a clear sign of the times: the normalization and promotion of perversion. Despite this toxic environment, the trendies, unaware of their brainwashing, dreamed of only one thing: taking a selfie next to Richardson. Even Obama got there... It speaks volumes.

In this organized depravity, of course, the models were the first to suffer. Their success was no longer determined by their extraordinary beauty, but by their submission to the unbridled desires of the system. While these practices are not new, their careers now depended even more on the person with whom they had sexual intercourse, whether at a casting, a party, or a hotel room. We should not be afraid to admit that in most cases, modeling agencies are primarily fronts for trafficking youth and beauty into the hands of the rich and powerful.

Not to mention that predators often use drugs to achieve their ends, regardless of the age and gender of their victims. Many are aware of this, but since the industry is very juicy and everyone dreams of getting a bite of it, omertà remains the law.

I played the game as long as I could stand it, but the environment finally sickened me. As someone with close ties to two Victoria's Secret models, I can confidently say that the infamous relationship between the lingerie brand and billionaire pedophile Jeffrey Epstein is a sad reality. Perhaps one day I will provide a more detailed explanation of my experience, including why I had to leave the United States.

(...)

Q

2.1 – A glimmer of hope

Now that you know my state of mind, you will not be surprised to learn that my approach to the political scene has never been one of good cheer. The spectacle has always struck me as profoundly sad, sordid, and uninteresting. Apart from a brief interest in anarchist ideas, my illusions as a young man quickly faded. Since then, I have not devoted any time or energy to this tawdry masquerade staged by puppeteers. And yet...

As they say, only fools do not change their minds. Mine was called into question when a ‘UFO’ appeared on the American political landscape in 2016. Donald J. Trump immediately caught my attention, despite his manufactured and unattractive golden boy image. For the first time in my life, I felt that someone truly wanted to change the political paradigm and improve the condition of the people. His speeches were fascinating in many ways because they unapologetically attacked the corrupt machinery of the system and the establishment that benefited from it. A new, fresh and invigorating wind was blowing over international politics. By championing economic nationalism, it presented itself as the antithesis of the totalitarian agenda of globalism and embodied, de facto, the hope for a better future.

Digging a little deeper, I could see that his financial independence, guaranteed by his personal fortune, allowed him to snub traditional establishment funding. He was also associated with the ‘elites’ but did not, a priori, share their secret circles. In both respects, he was unaccountable, and no one could control him. Free to speak his mind, he consistently denounced the rampant corruption in Washington, D.C. His style was unorthodox and politically incorrect, but it was remarkably effective as he became the 45th President of the United States. After a legendary campaign and speeches that have become cult classics, we will finally be able to see if, like many politicians, he did not mislead the voters.

Vidéo (November 2016):

Donald J. Trump's most iconic speech

<https://my-great-awakening.com/wp-content/uploads/2024/07/b.mp4>

The answer was not long in coming. From the very beginning of his administration, we can all see that the holy union of all the forces of globalism were united against him.

The Democrats attacked him on the political stage - pulling out of a magician's hat some sort of collusion with the Russians. Since Vladimir Putin – the Kremlin's bogeyman in the Western world – has always worked to discredit any political opponent, every opportunity was taken to label Donald J. Trump as his lackey. However, without any evidence, this association was insignificant compared to the power of the system's loudspeakers. The global corporate media never missed an opportunity to portray him as a moron and a hateful man. As usual, in order to convince the population that he was the embodiment of absolute evil, the media repeatedly compared him to Adolf Hitler without any ideological basis. That is how far they were willing to go to discredit and vilify him.

In addition to the covers of Stern in Germany and the Daily News in New York, the Gold Award for journalistic libel and ad hominem attacks goes to a Washington Post article (1) published during the 2016 presidential campaign.

« We know they are lying; they know they are lying; they know we know they are lying; we know they know we know they are lying, but they are still lying. »

Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn (1918-2008)

« If you tell a lie big enough and keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it. »

Joseph Goebbels (1897-1945)

The media and politicians, kept on a leash by the ‘elites’ of globalism, have used all the arsenal at their disposal (fascism, sexism, racism, homophobia, etc.) to ruin his reputation, destroy his political message, and protect the establishment from the worst existential threat it has faced in a very long time. A psychological barrier has thus been erected around Donald J. Trump with the aim of destroying the curiosity and interest of the people.

« The media's the most powerful entity on earth. They have the power to make the innocent guilty and to make the guilty innocent, and that's power. Because they control the minds of the masses. The press is so powerful in its image-making role, it can make the criminal look like he is the victim and make the victim look like he's the criminal. This is the press, an irresponsible press. It will make the criminal look like he is the victim and make the victim look like he's the criminal. If you are not careful, the newspapers will have you hating the people who are being oppressed and loving the people who are doing the oppressing. »

Malcolm X (1925-1965)

As my friend Marc has long pointed out, when the system ferociously attacks a person or cries devil, it is very likely that they are not as bad as they are portrayed, or even more likely that they are an angel. The smear campaign against Donald J. Trump perfectly confirms my friend's theory.

Although Donald J. Trump's opponents did not have many legitimate criticisms against him, they did not hesitate to fabricate accusations and severely twist his words. Unfortunately for the effectiveness of their hoax, their main asset – anti-Semitism – could not be used against him (his grandchildren have Jewish blood). They had to find a solution by inventing support for an ideology that has little meaning outside the political-media apparatus: white supremacism, because in reality this ideology is shared by only a tiny group of mindless individuals worldwide. Racial discrimination remains a powerful weapon used to sow discord and division among humanity.

Before coming to any conclusions, I conducted an in-depth study in order to develop an informed opinion on the Trump phenomenon. I made a conscious effort to avoid simply repeating the opinions of others or the popular narrative, as I thoroughly examined all of Donald J. Trump's speeches with an unbiased perspective. Being fluent in English (without which it is impossible to make an objective analysis, as it remains subject to the truncated prism of the media wherever you live on this planet), I can confidently say that ninety-five percent of the media coverage surrounding Donald J. Trump is false. Unfortunately, many people rely solely on the media as their primary source of information without taking the time to verify its accuracy. As a result, the media's biased portrayal of Trump has been widely accepted as the truth. This has led to a global culture of ridicule and hatred toward him. And the most indoctrinated individuals have begun to show signs of Trump Derangement Syndrome.

I do not know how a man who has been so insulted, discredited, attacked from all sides, and who has put his family in danger, could overcome this persecution with such serenity. Where did he find the strength and determination to face it all? What resources did he have to remain so confident?

(...)

The Great Awakening is no longer a subcultural phenomenon; it has become one of the major driving forces of history.

Therefore, we owe the 45th President of the United States of America the recognition and gratitude he deserves. So, let's raise a glass to him and to the unwavering determination of digital soldiers, the selfless efforts of citizen journalists, the fearless individuals who refused to bow to societal pressures, the passionate defenders of freedom, and all those who have finally woken up. Even if these beautiful people were not always exemplary, the pride of having fought to give our children a brighter and more promising future is a light that will continue to warm their hearts.

It is never too late to honor your intellectual courage and stop worrying about the thoughts and opinions of others. Let us embrace the truth and no longer accept the established order as fatal. It is time to throw off the comforts of our servitude and forget mercantile materialism. Let us give our imagination the means to think of a more virtuous society where spirituality and God will finally have their rightful place.

1644 Jun 29, 2018 12:59:18 AM EDT

Q !CbboFOtcZs

(* * *)

It must happen.
Conspiracy no more.
Think of every post made.
It would force us to prove everything stated to avoid looking crazy, correct?
What do they fear the most?
Public awakening.

(* * *)

You are the support.
People will be lost.
People will be terrified.
People will reject.
People will need to be guided.
Do not be afraid.
We will succeed.
Timing is everything.

(* * *)

Sheep no more.
TOGETHER.
Q

« A single conscious, upright individual is more dangerous to power than ten thousand sleeping, submissive individuals. »

Attributed to Mahatma Gandhi (1869-1948)

If, like us, you feel that you can change the world for the common good and make life better for everyone, even if your approach is unpopular, causes misunderstanding, and results in ostracization, don't hesitate to speak out. It is the most beautiful demonstration of altruism, generosity, and caring that you can give to your loved ones and to humanity.

The Great Awakening has only just begun!

Ludovic Nicolas

PS : If you got a digital version of this book without purchasing it, a donation (<https://my-great-awakening.com/donate/>) will be greatly appreciated. Thank you for your support.